

Clover handoff

matchaxmoxie

This page is for the person who will use the Clover register after someone else set it up.

What handoff means

Handoff means you can sign in, ring a sale, and take a card without the person who set up the register standing there.

Steps

1. On the Clover device, sign in with the passcode your manager gave you. The account owner is the person who can sign in at clover.com.
2. Open Register and tap the items in the sale. Some devices use a Sale screen where you type the amount instead.
3. Tap Pay. If the button says Charge, tap that.
4. The customer inserts, swipes, or taps the card. Follow the screen if it asks for a PIN or a signature.
5. Choose Print, Email, or Text for the receipt, then tap Done.

Button names move a little between devices. If a label is not on your screen, stay with the sale, the Pay or Charge button, and the receipt choices.

Write this down

- Who owns the Clover account at clover.com.
- Who issues the device passcode.
- The device or location name.
- Do not write the password or the passcode on this page.

Video

How to Take a Payment with Clover Flex (3rd Gen - 2024)

Channel: Monetix

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=dqS40fFbC90>

A beginner card payment on Clover Flex. It is not a Clover channel upload. The steps above are the register path.

Same steps as the handoff page. No password belongs on this page.